

These vendors may be used for product being purchased by Stanford groups for internal use.

Most vendors on this list offer a wide variety of products. If you don't find what you're looking for please contact Stanford Trademark Licensing at trademarks@stanford.edu for advice.

If product is purchased with University funds AND given away for free, then all the vendors on this list may be used. However if product is being sold (including if campus group members are individually paying for a portion of or the entire cost of the product), or the cost for the product is included in a registration fee (so attendees to a conference, seminar, etc. are actually paying for the product) then the only vendors that may be used are those which have an asterisk after their company name.

None of the vendors on this list may be used if product is to be sold to the general public.
